THE PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

Here we are going into August. Wow, the time sure seems to fly by anymore. This is the month when we get really hot and muggy here in inland North County San Diego. I was in Home Depot the other day and man asked for directions. Apparently he just moved to Escondido from Carlsbad because he was tired of the overcast and cold. Interesting how the “grass is always greener”. I would switch in a minute.

From recent emails and phone calls it looks like some of our long distance travelers are beginning to return home. They are in time for a few upcoming rallies. We have Paso Robles in August, 29 Palms in September and Chula Vista Marina in October. Lynn and I are looking forward to seeing everyone and catching up on all our travels. Hopefully we can hear about the Indiana FMCA rally that took place in July.

I do not have any club updates as we have not been together for awhile. Our membership numbers are holding, and actually going up; I would like to see a few more rallies scheduled for next year and hope we will have some new rally hosts. Remember, this does not have to be a big deal, you can make your rally as easy as you want. Our goal is to get together, socialize and have fun. So if you are interested in hosting please contact Syd Byford for guidance. Anna and Syd can help you with the planning.

The upcoming rally flyers are now on the website. Speaking of the website, please let me know if you have any suggestions about the site.

Hope to you all soon.

Happy Travels,

Sandy Mayer

THE VICE-PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

August is around the corner, and we did not travel in our RV in July, so we must make up for it in August. Not getting any younger, so we travel when we can. I miss the walks with Miley around our campsite, and so does the dog. Don't know about other campers, but I always seem to feel better when we are on the road. It could be the fresh air, lack of harassing telephone calls, a lot less than 5 acres to care for and seeing all of you.

There is a great outing planned for Paso Robles which can be extended into a nice leisurely trip. Hopefully, we see a lot of Dolphin members on the road.

The weather in North County San Diego has been warm, so I have been spending a great deal of my time tending to the grove and family orchard. Our last trip was for over a month so there was a great deal of deferred maintenance around our property and fresh produce that required picking. There is nothing like home grown vegetables and fruits. Ask Anne about how I kept her busy with canning.

The next two months have some great Dolphin Club outings planned and we hope to see as many of you as possible attend. Fuel prices are down from a few months ago, so dust off your rig and plan on seeing us down the road. We will keep a light on for you.

Leon

2012 PROPOSED BYLAWS AMENDMENT

PROPOSAL #1

Article IX - Executive Board
Add:
(20) A properly called meeting of the Executive Board can be an official gathering in one area of its members at which a quorum is present or where some or all of the members communicate with the other members through electronic means such as the Internet or by telephone. All participating members must have the opportunity for simultaneous aural communication. The notice for an electronic meeting will include adequate description of how to participate.

Article XII - Committees
Add:
(8) A properly called meeting of a committee can be an official gathering in one area of its members at which a quorum is present or where some or all of the members communicate with the other members through electronic means such as the Internet or by telephone. All participating members must have the opportunity for simultaneous aural communication. The notice for an electronic meeting will include adequate description of how to participate.

Article XVII - Chapters
Amend this Article to read:
(4) In each fiscal year, a chapter shall hold at least one business meeting at which a quorum is present. The meeting can be a gathering in one area or where some or all of the members communicate with other members through electronic means such as the Internet or by telephone that allows all members the opportunity for simultaneous aural communication. Said meeting shall be duly announced in advance to the membership, including adequate description of how to participate.

PROPOSER'S RATIONALE:

1. Electronic meetings must be authorized in the bylaws of the organization.
2. Meeting should allow for "simultaneous aural communication among all participating members equivalent to those meetings held in one room or area."

3. Notice of electronic meetings must include description of how to participate (e.g., call-in number and code). Notices of electronic meetings can also be sent electronically (e-mail, text, or fax) if the member has agreed to it being sent that way.

The Constitution and Bylaws Committee recommends adoption of this amendment.
The Executive Board agrees with the Committee recommendation.

PROVISO: TBD

29 PALMS MARINE CORP BASE TOUR Yes________ No ________ (Indicate number)
Additional information on the Twenty Nine Palms, CA. outing scheduled for September 27-30, 2012 (application on page 4.) We have reservations for 30 RVs, and have an excellent agenda planned. One highlight is a bus tour of the USMC Air Ground Combat Center facility located a few miles from the campground. This is the world's largest Marine Corps training and live fire base. Training has priority over everything, so something may not be available. The tour is limited to 35 people and will start at the main gate visitor center where you will be processed through security. If driving to the gate you must have valid insurance, drivers license, and registration. After we clear security we head to the bus, park our vehicles, load up and go for a safety briefing. After the briefing we start the tour. The tour is about 6 hours.

If available we will see the training areas that are used for urban combat (sometimes referred to as "Urban Warfare Training Villages")

- Simulation center
- Explosive Ordinance disposal
- Base Solar facility
- Range Residue Recycling
- Dining at the mess hall (with the troops)

What to wear/bring

e would like to share with our Dolphin friends Joe's latest medical issues. We had him to E.R. yesterday, Monday July 23rd, in Spokane, WA and they found what has been causing him all the discomfort and weight loss. When they read the cat scan they found he has a large mass on his liver and pancreas and it has also wrapped itself around some major arteries. They also found an aneurysm on his aorta just above his kidney; so he is a very sick boy. We will head back to Indio, CA right way for medical attention. We ask your prayers for him during this most difficult time. Jo Smith
Dolphin blues.
Having just returned from the East coast, we wanted to report an adventure you hopefully can avoid.
Heading west on I-80 and spending the night in Lyman Wyoming. We awoke to no DC power, no lights, refrigerator off (and was hot out), and worst our jacks were down and would not retract. After calling Coach Net and being advised that there was no tech support within 140 miles and that I should replace the batteries (which checked out OK) On checking (batteries, power board, inverter/converter, jack electrical connections) some wire jiggling, the power came on and I raised the jacks. Thinking it an anomaly with the DC power working all day driving thru Salt Lake City and heading west thru the salt flats with driving head and side winds that wracked our main slide-out cover we got to a nice little campground near Wells NV., we lowered the jacks and in the morning found the DC power to again be not working.
After again much checking and wire jiggling a fellow camper working on a neighboring farm was called by his wife to come help. In jiggling the power board and checking the circuit breakers, the power again came on I immediately raised the jacks and was advised to buy a replacement circuit board, which I did in Elko NV.
Thinking the problem found and the replacement breaker in hand should the anomaly recur I reluctantly lowered the jacks in the Winnemucca campground. The next morning no DC power. I replaced the circuit breaker only to find still no power. Fortunately a mine worker mechanic coming home (to his trailer) from working all night graciously agreed to check the system, in checking and wiggling the circuit board the power came on. I immediately raised the jacks and purposed not to lower them till I got home.

Our own Dolphin Tech Adviser Chuck McGaughy (Aka Grumpy, whom I also called the each day) advised that the circuit board could be repaired or replaced. Most RV repair guys would replace and not repair at considerably greater cost and if away from home no recourse if problematic.
Upon returning home, Chuck found it not to be the batteries, the circuit breaker or the mother board but the Battery disconnect relay
This relay is not shown on the circuit diagram and is a black box on the circuit board and actuated by the switch upon entering the coach. the switch worked and you could hear it connect, but no power passed thru. Upon opening the black box the relay was simply 2 copper bolts and a copper washer on a rod opening or closing depending on the direction of current. the problem was a little corrosion on the washer and bolts. A little sanding of both resolved the problem.

vs New batteries : $300.00+ As Quoted in Lyman WY.
vs A new Circuit board :$400.00+ labor.
vs A new battery disconnect relay $40.00 + labor vs Roughing up the relay $0.00 +labor

Bob Frauenzimmer, now a little less grumpy, thanks to Grumpy.

Note!
Our best guess as the cause of the malfunction is that we live near the coast and moisture caused the corrosion, though none was visible.
Going down the road with the high heat and bumps allowed for contact, when night came it cooled and contact was lost. Crazy making, you can't find the problem during the day when it's working.
The battery disconnect relay is accessed by disassembling the circuit board, removing the relay, and removing the bottom cover.

Two blondes find three grenades, and they decide to take them to a police station.
One asks, “What if one explodes before we get there?”
The other says, “We’ll lie and say we only found two.”

A blonde is in the bathroom and her husband shouts, “Did you find the shampoo?”
She answers, “Yes, but I’m not sure what to do…. It’s for dry hair and I’ve just wet mine.”
PROPOSER'S RATIONALE:
Many chapters have difficulty getting members who will accept chapter offices. In addition, many members are active in more than one chapter. This will allow a member to be an officer in not more than two chapters. It restricts a member from being the national director and/or the alternate national director in more than one chapter.

The Constitution and Bylaws Committee recommends adoption of this amendment.
The Executive Board agrees with the Committee recommendation.

PROVISO: TBD

2012 PROPOSED BYLAWS AMENDMENT

PROPOSAL #3
Article III - Membership
Amend this Article to read:
(3) FMCA shall be comprised of six membership categories: Charter, Full, Life, Full Lifetime, Commercial, and Family Associate. Chapters may bestow chapter honorary memberships.
(g) A Family Associate is an Emeritus or Full Member who no longer owns a qualifying motor coach or a person who owns a fifth wheel or camping trailer that includes cooking, sleeping, and permanent sanitary facilities. A Family Associate shall be required to pay dues, however shall not be eligible to vote or hold elected office. An officer converting to Family Associate membership status may be allowed to complete his or her term of office.

PROPOSER'S RATIONALE:
The membership of the Family Motor Coach Association has declined to a point where it seriously threatens the financial stability of the organization. This change will enable far greater numbers of recreational vehicle users to join us, and at the same time will improve the financial outlook for Family Motor Coach Association.

The Constitution and Bylaws Committee is forwarding this amendment to the Governing Board with no recommendation.
The Executive Board agrees with the Committee.

PROVISO: TBD

Tech Tidbits

By Grumpy
(aka Chuck McGaughy)

12 Volt Electrical System Failure

One of our members was recently on a long trip when he discovered he had no 12 volt electrical power in the coach, a 2005 Dolphin. After a lot of troubleshooting and agony, it was discovered that the house battery disconnect solenoid was activating as evidenced by a loud click and physically feeling it but was not passing any electrical current from one large terminal to the other.

Upon removal of the solenoid, a large black rectangular unit, from the DC Power 12 Volt panel it was discovered the underside was open to the atmosphere and that a transparent coating had formed on the two inner contact copper bolt heads and the movable copper washer attached to the solenoid plunger. Cleaning these parts with fine sandpaper restored the solenoid to proper operation.
ATTENTION: Suzanne Justice is still looking for those UNIFORM (military, fire, police, etc.) photos of members to be e-mailed to Steve at: stevenhjustice@gmail.com (mailto:stevenhjustice@gmail.com)

Please reference "Dolphin" in the subject line so that he doesn't delete your e-mail if he doesn't recognize your screen name. I have received just a few, but I want MORE! If you aren't sure which ones to send, scan several and I will decide which one works best. I need it to be fairly close-up so that I can see your face. If you don't scan, have your children or grandchildren do it for you. You could also mail them to me by post office (9663 Briarwood Ave., Fontana, CA 92335) and I will take care of them and safely return them, but I would prefer e-mail.

PLEASE send them to me SOON so that I don't get them all in a crunch at the end just before the Chula Vista Rally which is in October 2012. This will be great fun, but I need YOUR help.

Thanks.
Suzanne
